

Career Management and Transitions Program

The Career Management and Transitions Program incorporates the essential assessments that you and your consultant need to lay a solid foundation upon which to build your career strategies. This program allows sufficient time to explore the extra complexities involved in adult career management and can be completed entirely in the convenience of your home or at our Career Vision office. You choose.

The real work begins in your Career Management Consultation, which is a 2-hour conference where the assessments are explained and explored in the context of your current situation. These results, your interview, and our guided conversations will give you the building blocks to get a positive look at options and realistic review of any gaps between the options you may be considering. This is a process. The program allows for up to three sessions that support exploration, evaluation and decision-making as we help you map out strategies to make your goals a reality.

Included in the Career Management and Transitions CORE Program: $650

This pilot program is designed for cost-conscious families and is subsidized by The Ball Foundation. Research Membership is required for this option. The assessments are identical to those in the core program, minus the personalized portfolio and in-person consultation. Consultations are still personalized, but held online. Instead of the portfolio, all assessment results will be sent electronically after the online consultation. The Career Recommendation Report will share links to resources to help you explore and learn more about each career.

 The Ball Foundation Research Membership is an agreement to complete all the assessments and 2 short annual surveys about your schooling and career planning. All you need to do is provide your verbal consent to become a Research Member prior to testing. Your membership will also entitle you to 2 free follow-up sessions. This helps our research on aptitudes and will help other adults.

RESEARCH MEMBERSHIP WILL SAVE YOU $100 OFF THE CORE AND COMPREHENSIVE PROGRAMS. Please mention your interest at registration.
